Tuesday Afternoon

Dear Dad:

I have just time for a quick note in which I'd like to ask you to do me a favor, if you will please. I haven't had a chance to get anything for the boy's graduation, and I just realized that the great day arrives next week. I don't think Don has done anything about it either and I'd appreciate it if you'd attend to a present from the two of us. Enclosed is a card that you can enclose if you will. I'm sorry to bother you with this, Dad, but I just won't have a chance to do anything since I'm not going into town this Wednesday because of a physics test coming up very soon. Get something nice and let me know how much it is and I'll send you money for both Don and myself.

All goes well here since I last wrote on Saturday. I had a swell time down at Galveston Sunday. It was fun to get back on the beach again after a two week lay-off. The swimming is swell except that the water is too darn warm.

Can't think of any more to write now. Thanks loads in advance for attending to the graduation presents, and I do hope it isn't too much trouble.

Lots of love,

Bobby
