INSTITUTE of AMERICAN HISTORY

Summer 2022 American History PD

Three exciting professional development opportunities for K–12 teachers

THREE PD OPTIONS FOR K-12 TEACHERS

TOP HISTORIANS. PIVOTAL MOMENTS. WEEKLY SUMMER PROGRAMMING.

The Gilder Lehrman Institute's summer professional development programs provide K–12 teachers the chance to engage in live conversations with renowned historians, watch lectures that explore key topics in American history, visit historic sites, and work hands-on with primary sources.

This summer, we're pleased to offer three unique PD opportunities for teachers—on-site, virtual, and a hybrid model. Want to learn more? Visit gilderlehrman.org/summer2022 to explore all options.

THE GILDER LEHRMAN TEACHER SYMPOSIUM (ON-SITE)

JULY 9–12 AT GETTYSBURG
COLLEGE (PA)

At our inaugural symposium at Gettysburg College, each participant will attend a series of lectures with one of eight renowned historians, six hours of pedagogy with a master teacher, book talks with scholars, and numerous in-person networking opportunities.

TEACHER SEMINARS (VIRTUAL)

JUNE–AUGUST

Each of our 21 weeklong virtual seminars will include live Q&As with eminent historians, up to fifteen hours of historian-led video lectures, lesson plans, and selected primary sources from the Gilder Lehrman Collection.

Select seminars also feature live programming provided in collaboration with museums and historic sites across the country.

REFRAMING LINCOLN SYMPOSIUM (ON-SITE OR VIRTUAL)

JULY 25–29
AT THE ABRAHAM LINCOLN
PRESIDENTIAL LIBRARY
AND MUSEUM (IL)

Examine Lincoln's beliefs and actions on issues such as emancipation, Black citizenship, and the growth of civil liberties in America. Teachers can apply to attend in-person or participate from home.

"SPECIAL TOPICS IN HISTORY": A NEW WEEKLY SERIES FOR SUMMER 2022 PD PARTICIPANTS

Teachers who register for any of our summer PD programs will be invited to join us for Special Topics in History, a weekly series featuring conversations on the most up-to-date historical scholarship.

Lectures will be led by historians and staff at key partner organizations, including:

- The American Jewish Historical Society
- The Choices Program at Brown University
- The Hingham Historical Society
- Historic Deerfield
- The National Civil Rights Museum
- The Sixth Floor Museum at Dealey Plaza
- The USS Midway Museum
